THREE DOLLAR FILING FEE ON INCOME TAX

EDMONTON, March 8.—Providing for a base tax or filing fee, of $3 on all taxpayers, a memorandum of the proposed new income tax under which the provincial government expects to raise $1,374,000 was laid on the table of the legislature last Wednesday afternoon by Hon. E. G. Reid, provincial treasurer.

Chief interest is being shown in the filing fee which will be imposed on all persons or corporations liable for the tax, or in other words, are taxpayers. A person who files a return but is not liable would obviously not have to pay this fee.

The tax is to be based on 1931 income. It follows the principle of the Dominion income tax to a great extent, though the steps are different.

The proposed percentage rates on persons are as follows: one per cent on taxable incomes up to $200; two per cent on taxable incomes from $200 to $4,000; three per cent from $4,000 to $5,000. The rate increases one per cent each $1,000 up to $25,000, with a maximum of 25 per cent. Exemptions are as follows: single persons $750; married persons $1,500; dependents $400 each.

ST. PATRICK'S ENTERTAINMENT

The members of St. Anne's parish will stage their fifth grand annual entertainment in the Columbus hall on Thursday and Friday nights of next week.

The programme will feature a farce comedy in three acts, entitled "Helping Business," songs, dances, musical selections, etc. The printed programme contains some sixteen pages and is one of the most elaborate yet produced.

We understand the programme is to be repeated at Pincher Creek Bellevue, and possibly other points.

TENSE FOX DRAMA SCALES NEW HEIGHT

Absolute faithfulness to the theme of the original story and play, richness of emotion, human appeal, and lavishness of production mark the Fox Film version of Vivia Delmar's "Bad Girl" which has its local premiere at Cole's theatre tomorrow night.

James Dunn, as the husband in the picture, a newcomer to films, scored a sweeping personal triumph with his realistic portrayal. This young man radiates screen personality and is headed for the heights. Sally Eilers gives a well rounded performance as the emotionally torn girl-bride in the title role.

Another member of the excellent cast, whose splendid character portrayal added much to the rich entertainment qualities of the picture was Minna Gombell, former star of the stage now enacting featured roles for Fox Films. William Pawley, as the brother, the role he created in the original stage version in New York and Frank Darien, as the proprietor of the radio store, also scored heavily with their effective characterizations.

Frank Borzage's depiction brought out all the depth of pathos latent in the theme.

Owing to other attractions on date chosen for the Senior Trail Rangers concert and drawing, it has been found necessary to postpone same until April 8th.

G. N. Gordon, K.C., member for Peterboro, has issued an apology for statements made at a political meeting in Hamilton, charging that Major W. D. Horridge, brother-in-law of Premier R. B. Bennett, had been in the pay of the Canadian government as legal adviser and was appealing a case for the Canadian government before the privy council during the time he was abroad on his honeymoon.

MR. DEN, Manchuria, March 1.—This was the first day of the first year of the era of "Tatung"—great unity—and it was so designated because the new independent Manchurian republic was formally proclaimed as a nation.

A committee of the founders of the young state left last night for Port Arthur to notify Henry Pu Yi, the former boy-emperor of China, that he had been selected to head the government.

SMOKERS AND BEONES MEET AT CALGARY TONIGHT

The Trail Smokers, British Columbia champions and challengers for the Allan cup, passed through Blairmore last night, enroute to Calgary, where they play a two-game series, goals to count, with the Alberta challengers, the Calgary Brooks.

The opening game will be staged tonight, and it's our bet that Rosie Helmer's pets will be up against the strongest aggregation they have met this season.

The second game is to be played on Saturday night.

SUPT. JUNGET GOES TO N. B.

Superintendent Junget, of "K" Division R.C.M.P. at Lethbridge, has received official instructions that he has been transferred to a new command in the Maritimes with headquarters at Moncton, New Brunswick, negotiations having been going on for some time between the Maritime Provinces and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police for taking over all police work, similar to that just concluded in Alberta.

Superintendent Junget has had nearly thirty-three years continuous service with the Mounties, joining as a constable in the summer of 1899, being gradually promoted through the various grades of non-commissioned as inspector on April 1st, 1907. He has been stationed at various points in the west, coming to Lethbridge from Fernie, B.C., on June 1st, 1922, where he had been stationed under Superintendent Pennefather. Upon the retirement to pension of Superintendent Pennefather, Inspector Junget, as senior inspector of the force, took command of the local division and was promoted superintendent from September 1st of that year.

During his tenure of office in charge of "K" division the fine new Waterton National Park detachment building was constructed, considered to be one of the finest buildings in the Mounted Police system. It is understood that when Supt. Junget leaves within a few days for the east, Inspector Humby will carry on in charge of "K" division.

Make a New Start

The winter of 1931-32 is passing—it is almost gone. Admittedly, it has been a winter of trial, of hardship, of great difficulty, even of actual suffering for many. It has been a period to try men's souls, to test their faith and their courage. And tens of thousands have stood the test. The experience may have left some marks and scars, it has undoubtedly taught some bitter lessons, and these, in the long run, may not be without their value. At all events, it is to be hoped so. But the present, and pleasant, fact is that this winter of our discontent, disappointment and trial is almost over. For so much we can offer thanks.

With the ending of this winter, there is also a growing belief, becoming more and more general, that the worst of the so-called business depression likewise comes to an end; that from this time onward there will be a steady improvement, albeit slow and gradual. It is not to be expected, nor indeed would it be desirable, that there will be anything spectacular in this betterment, as there was at the beginning of the depression in the great stock market crash. The upward movement should be of a permanent character, and to be permanent it must be slow and gradual, with nothing of the mushroom variety about it.

However, during this winter people have been thinking as they perhaps never thought before, thinking seriously, thinking constructively. So many of the false hopes erected in the days when everything was booming collapsed, so many false gods were overthrown, so many unground theories exploded, so many bubbles burst, that people generally, including statesmen and politicians, great financiers and business executives, as well as the humble laborer and wage earner, have been forced back to acceptance of and reliance upon the tried and true in economics and the basic foundations of life. This, in itself, is a great gain and full of promise for the years that lie ahead.

One writer in a magazine devoted to business raises the interesting question as to the extent to which the ill-considered choice of a word has played a major part in producing the psychological atmosphere of our far from satisfactory business conditions. He says that if the person or persons who first gave currency to the phrase "business depression" had made the happier and more accurate choice of "business recession," it is conceivable that the general attitude toward our recent past, our still troubling present, and our probable future for some time, might have been distinctly different. While the two phrases might have the same literal meaning, each indicating that business had gone more or less away from a previous point of comfort and satisfaction, might we not have viewed the movement somewhat more cheerfully, more hopefully, had we thought of it as having merely "moved" Dr. Carter's Little Liver Pills are a much more equal for correcting Constipation, Acidity, Bilemness, Headaches and Indigestion. 25c, 50c, 75c, red package. Ask for Carter's by NAME.

Apart from this, however, with the coming of Spring in each and every year, all nature rejoices and takes on new life. The grass, the trees, the pond; all animal life feels invigorated; human beings are inspired with new hopes and animated with renewed energy. The dark days and long nights of winter give place to the longer days of bright sunshine and shorter hours of night. Everybody feels a desire to busy themselves about something useful and productive. Nature itself on every hand is aroused from its long sleep, anxious once again to produce and be fruitful.

We are now entering upon that time of activity and productiveness. It is ours to make the most of it, not in any foolish spirit of undue optimism, not expecting to work wonders, but with a cheerful hope and expectation that, with the winter of our previous discontent and hardship past, we are again placing our feet on the highroad to better times and in the direction of finer and more permanent and beneficial accomplishment.

It is now up to us as individuals to throw off the depression, which has upset and unerved us, which actually made cowards of some of us, and, realizing that it was rather a recession of former good times which took place, set ourselves energetically and hopefully to the task, not only of checking that recession, but of bringing ourselves, our businesses, our country, back to the more satisfactory plane upon which it has been our happy lot in former years to move and live.

Placing Settlers on Land

Figures Given By Government Show Number In Each Province

Of the 44,959 persons placed on the land by the co-ordinated efforts of the immigration department and the transportation companies, 15,199 were unmarried men, while 6,352 families (averaging five members to a family) comprise the remainder. This was the answer of Hon. W. A. Gordon, Minister of Immigration, to a question in the House of Commons.

Alberta, with 2,193 families and 3,520 single men, received the largest number of placements.

The total of other western provinces follows:

Province	Fam.	Single
British Columbia	534	150
Saskatchewan	1,455	1,929
Manitoba	661	2,002

New Type Of Optical Glass

For Use In High Grade Telescopes and Field Glasses

Discovery of a new type of optical glass was claimed by Dr. E. Raymond Riegel of the University of Buffalo. The new glass was described as possessing "great resistance to weather and a high index of refraction." It was the first glass ever produced which contained blumuth, Dr. Riegel said. Development of the glass was completed in his Bailey and Sharp laboratories at Hamburg, N.Y. The glass was expected to be used in high grade telescopes and field glasses, as well as laboratory microscopes.

Law Works Both Ways

Pressing Involves Responsibility For Girls As Well As Men
Ladies with Love Year Intentions had better think thrice before they leap in 1932!

It is all very well to be a modern and propose to the man you want to marry. But suppose one proposes, hears her friend sing a sky "yes" and then changes her mind. Is this still a woman's privilege?

The law says it is not. The fiancé may turn modern, too, and go to court, and it is possible that in another four or eight years the docket will bristle with breach of promise suits, with men in plaintiff roles.

"The law works both ways, and there are already a few such suits on record," said Miss Elinor Fallow, a New York lawyer.

Even if jurors snicker, a man can stand his ground and sue the girl who throws him down. For a marriage promise is a bilateral contract and a very special one, legally speaking. It implies that something is to be given on both sides; a promise implies a promise, in other words, and at the moment they are made each must be of equal weight or seem so, to "contracting parties."

"Long ago in English law it was decided that a woman could not break her promise legally," explained Miss Fallow. "The question came up because a woman's promise was held to be in very high regard, poverty and it was doubtful whether she could be held to it. But the ruling was that the marriage promise is a mutual one and if it is not to be binding on one side then it must not be on the other. It was generally agreed a man should not be allowed to throw a woman over, either, without a penalty."

Skin Loveliness

Easy to Have, Famous Vegetable Pills Better than Creams

Miss E. T. has proved it. She says: "Carter's Little Liver Pills will do more to keep the complexion clear than all the face creams I have used." PURELY VEGETABLE, a gentle, effective tonic to both liver and bowels, Dr. Carter's Little Liver Pills are a much more equal for correcting Constipation, Acidity, Bilemness, Headaches and Indigestion. 25c, 50c, 75c, red package. A Woman Geologist

Talented, New Woman Awarded Medal in Recognition of Research

Work. One of the four medals awarded for the current year to geologists of distinction by the Council of the Geological Society of London goes to a Scotswoman—Dr. Maria M. Ogilvie Gordon. This talented lady, who is a daughter of the late Rev. Dr. Alexander Ogilvie, Aberdeen, receives the high honor of a Lyle Gold Medal, together with £50 from the Geological Fund, in recognition of her researches on the structure of the Western Dolomites (Tyrol). Dr. Ogilvie Gordon studied at Munich University, and was awarded the degree with highest honors in 1900, when the degree was for the first time conferred by that University on women, says the Glasgow Herald.

Acids In Stomach Cause Indigestion

Create Sourness, Gas and Pain.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed, food sour, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well. Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get one of our druggists some clear, pleasant-tasting, and most powerful of powder or four tablets to take right after meals. This will neutralize the stomach, prevent the formation of excess acid, and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bismarck Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid) is harmless to the stomach, and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach relief. It is the only one that people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

Argentina May Exhibit

Plans To Send Wheat To World's Grain Exhibition

The ministry of agriculture has recommended that Argentina farmers send exhibits of wheat and other products to the World's Grain Exhibition to be held in Regina, Saskatchewan, in 1933.

This decision was made at a conference of government agricultural officials seeking to increase the efficiency of Argentine farming methods and to open new export markets for the Argentine farmer.

In 1930 the United States' 22,600 movie houses sold $1,500,000,000 worth of admission tickets.

Feeding the Hungry

Wheat From Board's Bulging Bins To Be Distributed In U.S.

The principle of feeding the hungry in the United States wheat from the farm board's bulging bins was endorsed by House of Representatives Democratic leaders and they made preparations to pass a senate bill devoting 40,000,000 bushels to this purpose. Under pressure from majority leaders, the agriculture committee reversed its previous stand and approved the measure by a vote of 15 to 6. In addition to providing food for needy people, provision also is made for feeding livestock in the crop failure areas of the northwest.

NEIGHBORS TALK

"I am employed in a theatre and it is a problem to make ends meet. I like to help support my mother and sisters. I like to dress well but haven't the money. I have a wardrobe. To give the appearance of variety to my slender wardrobe I change the colour of a dress or stockings as soon as the things become faded. I always use Diamond Dyes—the work—using liquid dye for dresses and as little for stockings. I have always gotten good results. And my neighbors talk about the great number of new things I have."

"I learned about Diamond Dyes from our wardrobe mistress. She says she has tried all the dyes on the market but none do such splendid work and are so easy to use as Diamond Dyes. I understand they are the world's most popular dye—and they deserve to be."

Investments in Canada

British and Foreign Investments Amount To Over Six Billion Dollars

British and foreign investments in Canada amount to about $6,125,000,000, according to revised figures by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Total business capital employed in Canada is $17,500,000,000, exclusive of private capital in domestic enterprises such as farms, homes, etc. About 65 per cent. is owned in Canada.

This estimate is based upon more complete information as to the distribution of ownership of the securities of firms located in Canada in 1930, obtained through the census of industry and other investigations. The national wealth is rated at about $30,840,000,000.

Of the British and foreign investments in Canada $1,184,670,000 was in Dominion, provincial, and municipal securities; $1,674,865,000 in railways; $628,230,000 in other public utilities; $202,248,000 in the pulp, paper and lumber industry; $281,400,000 in mining; $544,915,000 in manufacturing; $162,378,000 in all other industries; $250,000,000 in merchandise establishments; $209,022,000 in finance and insurance; and $338,033,000 in land and mortgages.

Of the total investment in Canada by British and foreign countries amounting to $6,125,000,000, the largest share $3,726,745,000 was held by people of the United States. Britishers held $2,292,094,000 and other countries, $171,158,000.

Sixty-seven per cent. of British investments are in government securities and public utilities, chiefly railways. United States investments are 50 per cent. in government securities and public utilities and 50 per cent. in other securities, chiefly industrial and mining.

PREMIER DENIES IN EVERY DETAIL CHARGES MADE

Ottawa, Ont.—Major W. D. Herridge, Canadian Minister to Washington, paid his own expenses while on his honeymoon last year and was not receiving a salary from the Canadian Government while absent. He testified, to this effect before a parliamentary committee sitting to investigate the charges alleged to have been made in Hamilton last January by G. N. Gordon, K.C., former deputy speaker of the House of Commons. Premier R. B. Bennett also denied charges, allegedly made at the same time by Mr. Gordon, that when he assumed office as Prime Minister he secured a new private railway car at a cost to the public of $125,000.

The inquiry is based on a report of the speech made by Mr. Gordon in Hamilton on the night of January 6 last, published in the Toronto Globe.

Mr. Bennett said he had denied the charges when they were first brought to his attention; but later, when he found that they were receiving widespread publication, and when he was in reality being "branded as a thief," he felt that out of respect to his office there should be a complete investigation.

The Premier made a most sweeping denial of the charges in every detail. Mr. Herridge had not enjoyed his wedding trip at the expense of the public treasury nor had he been in receipt of a salary at the time. Further, he testified, Major Herridge had not received any remuneration when he attended the Imperial Conference as Mr. Bennett's personal assistant, and had borne a large share of his own expenses at that time.

William Duff (Lib., Antigonish, Guyaboro), questioned Premier Bennett as to the speech at Coburg when Mr. Gordon made what one witness had claimed was an apology and retraction. Mr. Bennett replied that Mr. Gordon had made no apology or retraction that could be accepted in a legal sense. He thought that Mr. Duff, although not a lawyer, would grasp the significance of that fact.

"I'm a sea-lawyer," declared Mr. Duff.

"Oh," the Prime Minister exclaimed, "I've always heard you referred to as the admiral."

The inquiry was carried out with apparent good feeling by all parties and Premier Bennett stressed the point that he was making no public complaints of allegations that reflect upon his personal actions. These were to be expected in public life, he said. But the fact was that if the charges were true, he was not fit to head the government, and he was determined to prove, for that reason, that they were groundless.

No Foundation For Rail Merger Rumor

Royal Commission Report Will Not Be Given For Some Weeks

Ottawa, Ont.—Rumors to the effect that the Royal Commission on railways will recommend the amalgamation of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National railways, and that management are not justified in the progress made by the commission studying the railway problem. There will be no report from the commission for some weeks, and unanimity in recommendation is highly improbable. Lord Ashfield, one of the commissioners is in London, England, and the date of his return to Canada is indefinite. It is doubtful if parliament prorogues by May 15th, if the Royal Commission's recommendation or recommendations will be forwarded to the government in time for action this session. It is also quite apparent there are irreconcilable differences of opinion in the commission which will not make for speedy action.

Doukhobors For South America

Plan For Large Scale Settlement From Europe

Winnipeg, Man.—Plans for large scale settlement of Doukhobors from Europe in various countries of South America are under discussion at a conference of Doukhobor leaders and their agents here. Peter Yeregin, patriarchal head of the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood, the official name for the Doukhobors, set, disclosed the nature of the conference to the Canadian Press.

He confirmed reports that negotiations are under way to acquire 1,000,000 acres of land in Colombia on which to settle 50,000 Doukhobors. This project, however, had nothing to do with the Doukhobor community in Canada, he declared. There was no thought of moving any Canadian Doukhobors to South America.

Plans from an intention to move out of Canada, Mr. Yeregin said his organization was purchasing more land here, building grain elevators for the use of their people and developing water powers to serve their settlements.

J. M. Hackney, St. Paul, Minn., president of the International Colonization Corporation which is negotiating the land deal in Colombia, is taking part in the conference. Another delegate is a man named Foster from Berlin, Germany. Mr. Yeregin declined to name others but said representatives from London, England, and from Czechoslovakia were in attendance. The meetings will continue for several days. No details of the negotiations could be revealed until a later stage, the leader stated.

Alberta Premier Is Willing To Co-Operate

Would Discuss Plan To Cut Cost Of Maintaining Government Houses

Edmonton, Alberta.—Readiness to discuss with representatives of other provinces the desirability of some plan which would save the governments the cost of maintaining government houses, was expressed in the legislature by Premier Brownlee. Some plan might be worked out along constitutional lines in a national way which would lead to a different system in connection with the office of the king's representative in the provinces, the Premier indicated.

He referred to the situation in Ontario, however, where the chief justice of the supreme court is acting as administrator of the province, no lieutenant-governor having been appointed to the vacancy in that office.

The legislature was at the time discussing estimates and had the items for expenses of the lieutenant-governor's office under consideration.

Aid For Farmers

Bill To Provide Seed Grain Introduced In Manitoba Legislature

Winnipeg, Man.—Manitoba farmers in need of seed for their livestock and of seed grain, will be aided under a measure introduced in the provincial legislature by Hon. Albert Prentiss, Minister of Agriculture. It is intended to aid farmers in the province stricken with total crop failure and will be speeded through all stages to become law at an early date.

The province will guarantee loans by means of municipalities for the purchase of seed grain and fodder. Any possible loss on the loans will be shared on a three-way basis by the Provincial, Dominion and Municipal Governments. The bill, however, contemplates repayment of advances by farmers receiving relief.

So far, it was stated, the Dominion Government has not agreed to feed the aid asked but it has offered to lend the province funds necessary for seed grain and fodder relief.

Asks For Definition

Ottawa, Ont.—What is a billion? This is the question which the senate of Canada is asked to answer. Senator Parent informed the senate that an English dictionary defined a billion as a million million, but added that this definition did not apply to the United States where a billion was a thousand million. Senator Parent wished to know which rule applied in Canada. The answer will probably be forthcoming in due course.

Manitoba Not Floating Loan

Winnipeg, Man.—Officials of the Provincial Treasurer's Department denied the report that the government would float a loan of $5,000,000. No preparations for such an issue are being made. Premier John Bracken said the Government is watching developments in the financial markets but has no present thought of a domestic issue.

Higher License On Radio Receiving Sets

Annual Fee Has Been Increased To Two Dollars

Ottawa, Ont.—The annual license fee on radio receiving sets will be increased as from April 1 next, to $2 per year, it was announced by Alfred Dumas, Minister of Marine. This fee has been $1 per year in the past and the increase is expected to bring the annual revenue to nearly $1,500,000.

The minister also stated that an increase in the license fees for commercial broadcasting stations on a graded basis, was under consideration.

Welsh Students Destroy Flag

Nationalists At Carnarvon Tear Union Jack To Shreds

Carnarvon, Wales.—Welsh Nationalist students hauled down the Union Jack from historic Carnarvon Castle and tore it to shreds in the market place.

Their action was a reprisal for the government's refusal to accede to the Welsh Nationalist request that the red dragon flag of Wales should fly over the castle March 1, St. David's Day.

FINANCES OF GREAT BRITAIN ARE IMPROVED

London, Eng.—Britain's improved financial condition was reflected in the announcement of Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, that British citizens again may buy foreign exchange.

Restrictions against the purchase of foreign exchange were imposed to protect the pound when Britain suspended the gold standard last year.

Asked whether restrictions against foreign loans would be lifted, the Chancellor indicated it would be "unwise for us to lend promiscuously overseas."

A cheer arose in Commons when Mr. Chamberlain confirmed that $100,000,000 of $200,000,000 borrowed in the United States last summer to bolster the pound, would be repaid.

The Chancellor added that a credit from French bankers of $200,000,000 ($300,000,000 for the same purpose had been reduced to $7,000,000 ($24,360,000).

Mr. Chamberlain recalled that an additional $200,000,000 of French advances last August were represented by treasury bonds to that amount in the hands of the French holders.

"We have no power to require them to accept payment before August," he said, adding that the original $80,000,000 ($270,400,000) obtained from loans remains intact and is available for making repayments.

The Chancellor said he desired to remove apprehension that repayment of the credits abroad involved a loss to British taxpayers.

"The necessity of acquiring foreign currencies with sterling at its present level involves an apparent loss which will be borne by the exchequer on capital account," he asserted. "This loss is at present offset by the enhanced value of our stocks of gold. Accordingly no burden is being placed on the current revenue of the budget."

The $150,000,000 repayment to the United States was final, the Chancellor said.

"The lenders have consented to return a proportionate part of the one per cent. commission as from date of maturity of existing bills," he said.

Less Pay For Operators

Commercial Telegraphers Asked To Take Ten Per Cent. Cut

Montreal, Que.—The Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways Companies have notified the Commercial Telegraphers' Union that for one year commencing April 1, a straight salary reduction of 10 per cent. will be introduced in the pay of commercial telegraphers. The companies' decision has been communicated to the various locals. Seventeen hundred employees of the Canadian National and 1,500 C.P.R. employees are affected.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company, Wednesday, March 2, announced that effective March 1, the reduction in working time of three days per month without pay among general office staff has been changed to two days per month. This brings this class of employees approximately the same rate of wage reduction as has been applied to the running trades and clerks.

Decide On Valuation Of Empire Goods

Provisions In Preference Regulations Under New Import Duties Act

London, England.—The Board of Trade has revealed its preference regulations under the new Import Duties Act provided goods shall not be deemed to have been manufactured in the British Empire unless at least 25 per cent. of their value is derived from Empire materials or work done within the Empire.

Where a number of separate articles are included in one parcel or shipment, each article will be treated separately.

The value of manufactures will be based on their cost to the manufacturer at his factory or works, including the value of containers, but not including manufacturers' or exporters' profit.

Jobs Tariff Plan

Douglas, Isle of Man.—The Isle of Man joined Great Britain as a protectionist country when the Manx Tariff court imposed a ten per cent. tariff on all goods except those on the free list of the United Kingdom's tariff act and with the addition of sugar, table waters and dried fruits.

Special Coal Rate Extended

Calgary, Alberta.—Coal men of Alberta were cheered by the news from Ottawa that the special $6.75 per ton freight rate to Ontario had been extended another year. The rate was scheduled to expire July 13, 1931, but its removal was delayed pending the outcome of decisions between Dominion Government officials.

Sutherland (right) Minister of National Defence, who clashed in the House of Commons debate on civil service salary reduction, when the matter of the dismissal of 166 officers and men of the Royal Canadian Air Force was discussed. Col. Ralston described the dismissal of the men as a breach of contract. Col. Sutherland defended the Government's action.

Rescued From Snowslide

Sectionman Buried In Drift For Twenty-Six Hours

New Westminster, B.C.—Buried in an immense snow drift for twenty-six hours, John Peebles, 19, Kettle Valley railway sectionman, was rescued alive and is now recovering in hospital here. He is suffering from frozen hands and feet and from exposure.

Peebles was inspecting the track when the snowslide caught him and buried him under about eighteen feet of snow. All afternoon and night he battled vainly to fight his way out of his icy prison. Occasional air pockets helped to keep him alive.

When Peebles failed to return fellow workers suspected his fate and finally succeeded in digging him out, alive but unconscious.

Dominion Note Advance

Totals Twenty Million

Figures Given In House By Minister Of Finance

Ottawa, Ont.—The present total amount of Dominion notes advanced under the authority of the Finance Act to the banks in Canada by the Minister of Finance was $20,000,000, Hon. E. N. Rhodes stated in the House of Commons. The rate of interest being charged the borrowing banks was three per cent. and the lowest rate of interest charged the banks for such advances during 1931 was also three per cent., the Minister of Finance declared.

Anxious To Settle

Reparations Problem

France Thinks It Has Reached Political Question

Paris, France.—Growing desire to settle the reparations problem on the basis that it has ceased to be a financial question and has become primarily a political one, was reported in diplomatic circles.

Premier Andre Tardieu, who returned from the world disarmament conference at Geneva, had a conference with Leopold von Hoesch, the German ambassador, and Andre Francois-Poncet, French ambassador to Berlin.

UNEMPLOYMENT NATIONAL CRISIS MAINTAINS KING

Ottawa, Ont.—The Bennett Government allowed its unemployment relief legislation to become "as dead as Julius Caesar" and "as extinct as the dodo" without offering an alternative scheme, Right Hon. Mackenzie King, Liberal Leader, charged in the House of Commons.

Despite the Liberal Leader's many-sided attack on the Government's unemployment relief record, it gathered few supporters from the third party group. William Irvine, U.F.A. Wetswink, announced the gingersites would refrain from voting on the Heenan-former motion of Peter Heenan, former Minister of Labor. Although not agreeing with the government's policies, the group, he said, viewed the motion as pure party politics. A. W. Nell, Comox-Alberni, and Henri Bourassa, Labelle, the two independents, also said they would not support the Heenan motion.

Unemployment, said Mr. King, had become a national crisis. The government's remedial policy had failed, yet it offered no alternative. The only move it had taken was to propose a resolution to prolong for two months the life of the "blank check" legislation. But even this had failed because the act automatically expired at midnight.

"I believe this problem of unemployment," proceeded Mr. King, "is going to be with us, not only for several months yet, but I fear for possibly another year or two at least."

Establishment of a national commission to advise the government, was advocated by the Liberal Leader. It would represent labor, farmers, economists, municipalities, provinces, red cross and other organizations with special knowledge of conditions. Parliament took official notice of the "bad cheque artist" when it considered a government bill to tighten the law aimed at this practice. Introduced by Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice, it stood for third reading after being passed by the House of Commons. Under it a man who passed a cheque, knowing it would not be honored by a bank, would be prosecuted for securing goods under false pretences. The onus of proving himself innocent would be on the accused.

UNEMPLOYED DEMAND IS MET BY A REFUSAL

Ottawa, Ont.—Representatives of the unemployed, who from many Canadian cities converged on Ottawa, met the government in the railway committee rooms of the House of Commons. They were told frankly by the Prime Minister that their "demands" for a system of non-contributory insurance at union wage rates for all unemployed above 16 years of age without any discrimination whatsoever, could not be met.

The "demand" was that a fund be established through which incomes above $5,000, confiscation of wealth and savings from armaments and that this fund be administered by a committee selected by the workers themselves. The government had promised an investigation into a contributory system, with employers and workers participating, Mr. Bennett remarked.

The delegation was also told that threats and marches on Ottawa would not cause the government to change its position. James Litterick of Toronto, was spokesman for the delegation and attacked the unemployment activities of the government, and urged many changes.

At the meeting were not only most of the members of the cabinet but its position. James Litterick of Toronto, was spokesman for all parties in the House.

The day had been more or less eventful for the delegations. In the forenoon they had formed up on Wellington Street to march to the Parliament Buildings, but they found the gates leading to Parliament Hill guarded, and they held a meeting near the city post office. The street meeting was dispersed by the police and three men arrested.

The delegates then met in a hall. They were informed that the government would meet them if they limited their deputations to 35 persons.

The deputation reached the Parliament Buildings at 3:30 p.m. Royal Canadian Mounted Police had taken precautions to prevent disturbances, and there were none.

Edmonton, Alta.—Hunger marchers, stranded in Edmonton where they gathered to present their demands to the provincial government, would be added in returning to their homes, Premier J. E. Brownlee said. He added, however, that only in cases where it was found the marchers were to pay for their own transportation would any assistance be given.

Winnipeg, Man.—Demanding immediate relief for all young workers, trade union wages on all relief work and application of all money now spent for military training to unemployment relief some 1,500 men marched to the provincial parliament building. Police watched the marchers to see that order was observed.

C.N.R. Steamships May Inaugurate Fortnightly Freight Service Between Montreal and Vancouver

Montreal, Que.—The Canadian National Steamships announced the possibility of a fortnightly freight service between Montreal and Vancouver via the Panama Canal this summer, and stated as a certainty that the "Canadian Ranger," and the "Canadian Winner," would, as last summer, operate a monthly service over this route.

This intercoastal service, maintained between Vancouver and St. John, N.B., and Halifax in the winter season, "has opened Pacific coast markets which formerly were beyond the reach of eastern Canada manufacturers economically," the announcement says. Lumber from British Columbia and general merchandise from eastern Canada are the commodities carried.

Sir Malcolm Campbell Is Welcomed At Toronto Luncheon

Toronto, Ont.—"I feel certain there is more speed in the old car yet," declared Sir Malcolm Campbell, British speedster, in an address at an Empire club luncheon here. "I do think this car of mine is a remarkable test of British workmanship and materials, especially when it is considered it is just a little over eight years old."

Sir Malcolm was welcomed to the city when several thousand persons gathered at the city hall to hear Mayor William Stewart read an address of welcome. At luncheon the speed king was welcomed on behalf of the Province of Ontario by Premier George S. Henry.

ARE WE GETTING VALUE FOR MONEY?

We are educating our children as never before. School buildings are larger and better equipped; teachers are better trained and better paid; subjects taught have increased; a higher percentage of children are spending more time at school.

That these are suitable objectives cannot be denied. But there are other considerations, of which three may be mentioned.

1. Is this enlargement of education, particularly secondary education, as desirable or necessary in practice as it is in theory?

A writer in the Atlantic Monthly for December says: "A democracy can exist without the millions of graduates of the kind commonly turned out by the high schools and other second schools."

Robert A. Millikan, the Nobel prize scientist, in the same magazine asks if education by private enterprise, particularly above the lower grades, should not be given a wider sphere.

The question of whether or not our educational system in many branches has run beyond the needs of the country is worthy of some study.

A second question is important. 2. If the system is right, is the money efficiently spent?

Dr. Horace L. Brittain, director of the Citizens' Research Institute, said in 1928:

"Even on the basis of investment, school expenditures merit enquiry. A poor investment is as bad as, and may be worse than, an unnecessary expense. In so far as school expenditures represent value received, there can be no quarrel on the part of the public. But in as far as good or better results could be obtained for less expenditure, the public has a right to know the facts and to take the action indicated by the facts. Waste in education, where and when it exists, is more, not less, reprehensible than other forms of waste. The idea that educational expenditures are too sacrosanct to be submitted to examination and that anyone who asks questions regarding school expenditures is an enemy of education, are worse than ridiculous; they are hostile to the best interests of education."

Recently the Board of High School principals in Toronto made a report on the extension of manual training and household science courses in Toronto high schools. They unanimously recommended that these courses be not added to the curricula in any new colleges established on the grounds among others that "not all boys and girls of high school age are interested in these subjects" and that "the high school course is already very full." Yet these subjects are taught in all Toronto high schools and expensive class rooms and equipment are required for them.—F. S. Chalmers in Financial Post.

One only has to visit Calgary, Edmonton, or other large centres in this province to be able to realize the effect of the raise in auto license fees. Before the end of the present fiscal year it will be found that a very large percentage of Alberta auto owners did not buy license for this year with the result that less revenue will have been realized than under the reduced fee allowed last year.

(By Thaddeus)

Chapter 1

1. And it came to pass during the reign of Brownie, that is called "John", that depression was about in the land and famine stalked among the people; want was on the earth. Some blamed their rulers.

2. And the people in their need gathered together in the city that is called Edmonton and is the capital, and they went out for the Governor and he that is called John who came and listened to their murmurings and they were greatly perturbed.

3. For the people made many accusations and much threatening, so much so that John was greatly concerned and he called together his wise men and councillors, even his cabinet, and Henry the Wise, who had placed him in authority.

4. And the councillors and wise men said "Let us call together the Legislature and with much talk let us pass new legislation and draw the people's attention away from their troubles. Let us blame the tariff, the war, the Dominion Government and Russia. Let us talk about currency and credits and moratoriums. This will please the people."

5. But John was not satisfied, and he called his ministers to him severally and asked each one what he had done to strengthen the hands of the Government.

6. And they answered each one for himself, with much fear and trembling.

7. And it came to pass that Hoadley, who is called George, being the oldest, answered first thus:

"8. 'Have I not been a faithful servant? Have I not lowered the cost of living to the farmer and consumer? Even to eggs on thy table to five cents per dozen. Pork and beef were never so cheap. Have I not taught the farmer to draw the manure spreader with a tractor? And have I not passed an act whereby those mayest sterilize thine enemies, so that none come after them? Truly I have been a great success.'"

9. Then spake up Dick, who is the minister of many parts: "Master have I not increased the taxes and the people's burdens fourfold? Have I not borrowed all the money possible and sold many licenses?"

10. Have I not stopped all speculation in oils? Have I not increased the cost of every service in my departments? Truly I have been a great success."

11. Then spake Mack, the road builder: "Have I not built many bridges and much road, and improved the highways in order to increase the sale of autos?"

12. "Have I not covered the roads with loose gravel so that horses may not walk thereon? Have I not forced the farmer to go in debt for tractors?"

13. Then spake up Perrin, the Baker: "Have I not built schools and spread education until some of the people know even too much?"

14. "Have I not caused to be made one thousand teachers without job and have I not seven hundred more coming out next summer and do I not tell funny stories to tease the opposition when they trouble you with their queries? Truly I have been a success."

15. Then spake Vernon, the Smith: "Have I not built telephone lines and raised the cost from $18.00 to $30.00? Have I not caused the farmers to remove their phones so they may not waste their time communicating together? Lo, I have built a line from Camrose to the place that is called Round Hill, a distance of fifteen miles, and is it not true that there is one phone?"

16. Then spake Lymburn, who is learned in the law: "Have I not increased the cost of every service in my department? Have I not instituted many investigations at great expense to the people? Have I not worn out one police force and already arranged for another? Have I not assisted in passing many acts? Some even surpassing the Acts of the Apostles. And have we not seven score of Resolutions awaiting us now to be passed in the present session?"

Here and There

The railroads cannot continue to pay a million dollars a day in taxes; they cannot pay interest on their bonds; they cannot buy new equipment unless they earn the money. In putting the railroads in a sound, money-making position we are aiding the whole country, says the Hornell (N.Y.) Tribune Times.

Montreal witnessed an unprecedented invasion from Quebec on the first week-end of February, when over 3000 men, women and children, drawn from all ranks and classes, arrived on the three dollar return Canadian Pacific excursion from the Ancient Capital. Four special trains were used.

Seated on a glittering ice throne between two huge natural icebergs, Miss Margaret Stevenson of Edmonton, in her role as Carnival Queen and assisted by His Honor Lieutenant-Governor W. J. Walsh, opened the 10th Annual Banff Winter Sports Carnival at that Canadian Rockies resort, this month.

The appointment of W. R. Patterson to be General Auditor, Canadian Pacific Railway, has been announced, effective February 1, over the signature of E. E. Lloyd, Comptroller, in succession to G. C. Gahan, who died recently. Mr. Patterson, who was born in Toronto in 1890, is one of the youngest railway executives on the continent.

Plays for a national championship for grouse and woodcock dogs are under way and New Brunswick is considered as the best possible locality for staging the event. Field enthusiasts in the United States recently held a meeting to discuss the championship and were greatly influenced by the advice of Ozark Ripley, well known sports writer, who strongly advocated the claims of New Brunswick.

Truly I have been a great success."

17. And the Premier was greatly moved as he listened to his Attorney General, for he himself was well learned in the law.

18. Then he called on his last advisor and in stern tones said, "Irene, what have you done?"

19. And Irene answered with a smile: "Have I not been a nurse to your government? Have I not gone about the country pouring oil on the troubled waters, keeping the farmers' wives interested in their work and spreading contentment? I have taught them organization and co-operation. I have spoken to many plagues."

20. "Lo, I have journeyed even unto Europe to intercede for the peace of the world, especially Alberta."

21. And it came to pass that after he Premier, that is called John, heard each of his ministers blow his own trumpet, that he was very wrath. And he called them to him and said: "Behold thou art a bunch of weak sisters!" for he greatly feared her opposition.

22. And now said he: "What are we to do with those who oppose us and wear witness against us?"

23. Then spake up Hoadley, that is called George, and said: "Let us keep strict watch on the Tories for I know them well. I have slept in their camp. They are bound to destroy us. They are in league with one Bennett who knows politics and is blessed with great wealth and his love for us is not great."

24. Then spake up Lymburn and said: "I also fear the Grits. They are after our scalps. They know where we are weak and they shoot straight."

25. "Behold, there is one Hovson, called Bill, and he has much ammunition and is without fear. He has found favor among the people."

26. Then said Irene, "Master have you fear of the third party. I have talked with them and I have rubbed their backs with salve that was given to me by George."

27. And when moisture appears on their shoulders and foreheads I tell them it is sweat, they are labor men and they are greatly pleased and promise to vote with us."

28. Then said John, "Hearken unto us, I will answer for your departments. Irene hath wrought a great work and when Buckley, who is my teamster, shall appear with his whip you shall each answer 'Ay, Ay,' and nothing further, for we must act with great caution, being wise as serpents."—Bassano Mail.

PLATFORM OF THE
NATIVE BONS OF CANADA

1. Canadian National Status. It is imperative that the Parliament of Canada should possess Sovereign rights. The Dominion of Canada must acquire the constitutional status of a nation enjoying absolute equality with any other component part of the British Commonwealth. The rights hereby demanded should not rest upon sentiment nor the assurances of statesmen, but should be enacted as law by the proper parliament. Generous safeguards and covenants protecting the vested rights of the provinces, and civil and religious liberties should be preserved.

2. Banking. The banking system of Canada should be placed under the control of a banking commission, invested with plenary powers in all matters pertaining to banking, currency, coinage and credits. A National Bank of Canada should be established as a central reserve bank. The ownership and control of the issues of currency should be reserved to the nation. Organization of local banks should be encouraged. A system of governmental supervision and inspection of banks should be devised. Deposits in banks should be more fully protected. Land banks and rural credits should be developed along safe lines.

3. Domestic Trade. Domestic trade is much the most profitable. Trade between the various parts of Canada should be greatly developed. Canadian products should be more largely advertised to Canadians. All the restrictions or impediments, which now stand in the way of the development of our internal trade, should be eliminated. Customs officers should be stationed at such places along the highways of inter-provincial commerce as will facilitate trade.

4. Foreign Trade. Foreign trade should be pushed. Canadian commissioners, imbued with Canadian spirit and knowledge of Canada and Canadian products, should be stationed in many parts. Canada should have its own ambassadors and consuls to Great Britain, United States and other important countries. Young men should be taught the language and business customs, and acquire information of the resources of the foreign country in the trade with which they are engaged. More and better qualified agents to push Canadian trade should be sent abroad.

5. Marketing. The spread between the price paid the producer and the cost to the consumer is unduly great. Government intervention, with enhanced constitutional powers, may be necessary. Propaganda for the purchase of local and other Canadian products should be extended and intensified. Cold storage, public markets and co-operative marketing and buying should be encouraged.

6. Transportation. Equitable and fair adjustment of railway freight and express rates and the full utilization of the Panama Canal is a prime necessity. Further development of provincial and inter-provincial highways of a permanent character, and along natural grades, is much to be desired.

7. Economy and Taxation. Rigid economy in municipal, provincial and federal expenditure, so that the burden of taxation may be lightened, is essential. Co-operation between the various Canadian governments and governmental departments, so as to prevent duplication of services and expenditures, should be encouraged. Unnecessary governmental and administrative bodies, departments, employees and services should be eliminated.

8. Immigration. By revision of the programmes of studies in our schools and universities; by a system of governmental lectures on Canadian resources and industries throughout Canada and the preparation and distribution of appropriate literature; by a system of homeseekers' rates on railways and superintended excursions for those who have determined to move their residence; by the upbuilding of Canadian industries and the attraction of adequate capital, and by all other reasonable means, special and untiring efforts should be made to retain Canadians in Canada. In preference to all other plans and schemes of immigration, a programme for the repatriation of Canadians abroad should be put into vigorous operation, and generous assistance to Canadians living abroad for their return to their native land should, where necessary, be granted. A much larger population for Canada is urgently needed, but only selected immigrants of the best stocks, other than Canadian, should be encouraged to come. Agriculturists are the only class of occupation, of which Canada stands in immediate need. Immigration of the domestic servant class should be so selected that in intellect, morals and health they will be fitted to become the parents of future Canadians, and all others should be rigorously excluded. Care should be taken to bring in only peoples accustomed to laws and conditions of life and industry similar to those existing in Canada. The policy of financial assistance to immigrants of other than Canadian birth should be immediately and wholly discontinued. Co-operation between the provincial and federal governments should be effective and continuous. Immigration tending to make Canadians a mixed or colored race, or to lower the standards of living, education or morals; or which stresses Canadians out of Canada, or which admits the physically, morally or mentally unfit, should be prohibited.

9. Education. Make patriotism an essential result of good education in Canada. Instill deeply the pride of being a Canadian. Insist upon a spirit of optimism. Advise to Canadians the natural resources of Canada and its capabilities of providing prosperous homes. In schools and public societies, educate Canadians to know that racial and religious prejudice between the two great basic Canadian races is contemptible and hateful. In our schools, by the study of history and story, imbue our children with a glowing consciousness of the splendid virtues of the two great Canadian races. A much more extended and thorough knowledge of Canadian history, geography, natural resources and industries should form part of the school curricula.

10. Research and Guidance. The Canadian government should, in the best interest of Canada, establish a department of research, and train staffs of experts who would thoroughly investigate the value of Canadian resources and the best means of utilizing them. The government should encourage agriculture, industry and settlements in proper districts under right conditions. The establishment of settlements and promotion of new industries in such regions and under such conditions as to put them under great handicaps, or make their success impossible, is productive of great hardships, and promoters of such enterprises should be warned that government assistance cannot be given. Our government should insist, as far as possible, on the raw products of our country being manufactured into finished articles in our own country, even to the extent of an export duty being levied upon such products.

The above platform was unanimously adopted at the annual convention of the Native Sons of Canada, held at Courtenay, B.C., in 1924, and amended as to paragraph 8 at Regina in 1928.

A FISH STORY?

The most unique reason for arriving late at a port on the route of the Canadian National Steamships was registered by the master of S.S. Prince Rupert when she docked at Prince Rupert, B.C., recently on her regular weekly run. The big ship was thirty minutes late in tying up and, as she is most punctual, questions were asked.

"Herrings," briefly answered the chief officer. The reply didn't mean a thing to his questioner. "What are you trying to do, kid me?" he asked. "No, Herrings, nothing but herrings, hundreds of them, thousands of them, schools of them. All trying to swim up our generators. It took us nearly an hour to clean them out." Believe it or not, but this is no fish story.

Jack Frost—King of Architects

Jack Frost, nature's greatest architect, completed yet another wonderful job, at Banff, on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway through the Rocky Mountains, this winter, when he designed and built the columns of the ice-castle of the Carnival Queen. As is easily seen by the picture, the two great pillars are the outstanding features of the palace. They were built by putting into play, one month before the opening of the great event, two vertical streams of water. Then, more men got busy and built the connecting wall of gleaming transparent ice-blocks, between the two pillars, and set in front of it the great thrones of ice, from which the ceremonies of the Carnival were conducted, in the presence of thousands of spectators from all parts of Canada and the United States. Snow and ice contests of all kinds, winter sports in profusion, including the Alberta Provincial Skating Championships, went to make up the programme, which terminated in the election of Miss Margaret J. Nicol, of Drumheller, Alta., well known as a tennis and hockey enthusiast, as Carnival Queen for 1922. Her picture is shown inset.

SERVICE IN TIMES OF STRESS

The social significance of life insurance has possibly received insufficient attention in recent years, while some of its other features have received unusual emphasis. If this tendency has been in greater evidence in periods of special prosperity, it is, perhaps, natural that the trying conditions of the past two years should cause people to realize the old primary values on which life insurance is based. During a time when all forms of business suffered severely and many accumulated, life insurance has withstood every strain, and has justified every claim. Not a single company on this continent has failed to meet every demand, even though these demands were unusually heavy. Within a decade and a half, life insurance has successfully survived the tests of a world war, of pestilence, and of unexampled depression.

Its steady, unobtrusive, but wonderfully helpful service to its policyholders is strikingly phrased in a reference by President T. B. Macaulay at the annual meeting of the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada held recently. He pointed out that the Sun Life Company last year paid out $93,000,000 to policyholders and beneficiaries, and that since organization it has paid out nearly $600,000,000. In the ordinary course of business, there will be paid out to policyholders and beneficiaries during the present generation the whole three billion dollars of assurance now embraced in the huge Sun Life business in force.

The stabilizing and constructive factor of the Sun Life and other companies in modern economic life is but lightly appreciated.

The annual report of the Company indicates that its new paid-for assurance last year amounted to $527,000,000, indicating how generally the public, during a trying period, turned to life insurance as a sure and tested refuge.

With assets of $624,000,000 and total assurances in force of over $3,000,000,000 the Sun Life Company continues to set new records in the life insurance field.

U. S. AND PROHIBITION

One of two things, or perhaps both, are happening in the United States today. The liquor interests are getting in their fine work or the great rank and file of the people are dissatisfied with the eighteenth amendment. At any rate there is being expressed in a poll that is being taken by the Literary Digest, a marked run of opinion against the present liquor legislation. The poll is as yet far from complete and even when completed will be incomplete as far as the total electorate is concerned. Nevertheless, it is designed to be representative of the electorate.

We are inclined to the view, that the poll is significant, although unfortunately so, and portends a change in the legislation of that country and the tastes of its people.

Up to Wednesday night 323,000 ballots had been counted. Of these, 51,000 supported the present liquor legislation and 272,000 were for a change. More than five to one of those whose votes have been counted are against the eighteenth amendment. These votes are from north, south, east and west, from town and city, from industrial and agricultural communities.

We in Canada know how divergent are views, honest views too, on the liquor control question. Those of us who have been recent visitors across the line have been impressed in different ways. Even the casual and short-time visitor, however, cannot be impressed otherwise than that liquor in many places flows freely and, in places more openly than it does in government control Canada. The fact is the pity. Nevertheless conditions must be recognized. In the United States, as in Nova Scotia or any other place under the sun, a legal enactment unsupported by public opinion is worse than worthless.

New Brunswick will be selected as the training ground for the Boston Bruins Hockey Club prior to the 1932-33 H. L. season. About 40 players will go into the training camp some time around October 15.

Autumn sowing of all grains in Somerset Basin last year amounted to $5,400,000 acres, representing a decrease of 10.8 per cent from the official fall sowing programme mapped out by the government, according to a recent table received by the Canadian Department of Trade and Commerce.

Week-end trips, so popular last year on Canadian Railway lines, will remain in force this year after February 29, the date set for their discontinuation. The Canadian Passenger Association has reached this decision under pressure of public demand. Under this arrangement, round trip tickets between any Canadian stations for any week-end are offered by the railway at the rate of one and a quarter times the regular single fare.

Two Alberta speed-skating records were smashed at the recent Banff Winter Sports Carnival. The 220 yards event was won by A. E. Harty, of Saskatoon, in 20 seconds flat, 4-5 seconds better than the former Alberta record. The Three mile event was also taken by Harty in 9 minutes and 25 seconds, beating 23 and 3-5 seconds less than the former Alberta record. Miss Margaret J. Nicol, of Drumheller, was elected Carnival Queen and will reign over the Banff Winter Sports Carnival of 1933.

Travellers in Canada at Easter-tide will have the benefit of the same ticket privileges as were granted them at Christmas, according to a recent announcement made by the Canadian Passenger Association on behalf of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways. This concession will save and save a good round trip, generally to the travelling public, between Thursday, March 24, and Sunday, March 27, with return available up to Tuesday, March 29.

Fifty-seven 10-year leases of salmon and trout fishing rivers, lakes and streams in New Brunswick will be put up to public auction at the Parliament Building, Fredericton, April 7 next, at upset prices ranging between $25 per annum and $12,000 per annum, is the announcement of Hon. L. P. D. Tilley, provincial Minister of Lands and Mines. They represent the pick of salmon fishing facilities on this side of the American continent.

At the close of a meeting of the directors of the Canadian Pacific held at Montreal, February 8, President E. W. Beatty announced that in order to help western farmers over the present period of depression the Company has offered to write-off interest on land contracts for the year 1931. This offer will be extended to the year 1932 on condition that the contract holder pays his taxes and a full installment on his contract this year. Further encouragement in the form of a bonus will be given to those who make payments on account of arrears of interest, the bonus to be in proportion to payment made. This should be of great assistance to contract holders on the Company's lands who have suffered through depressed markets or crop failures. (824)

Indication of the contribution made and being made to civilization by the engineering profession was demonstrated at the 46th annual convention of the Engineering Institute of Canada held at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, recently. A very wide variety of topics formed the basis of speeches and discussions at the convention at which the most outstanding men in the profession were present.

A little brown jug left Grand Pre, N.S., recently on a long journey south to the Land of Dixie. Unlike the brown jug of the old song, it did not contain ale, or anything likely to excite the U. S. Customs officials. Just water from the historic well of Brangine, line at Grand Pre Memorial Park, site of the birthplace of Longfellow's heroine. The water will be used to christen the new 10,000 ton steamer "Acadia" to be operated on the run between New York and Yarmouth, N.S.

Ski-ing, the sport that has had the greatest growth of any winter activity in the past decade, reached its peak this year with thousands of skiers trekking out to the Laurentians, north of Montreal, every week-end. Special trains are put at their disposal by the Canadian Pacific Railway. Similar week-end outings are encouraged by this railway in all the great centres of population and it takes a major place at all sport meetings across the continent. (822)

A pedestrian plods his absementined way.

And leaves the world quite unexpectedly.

RIMES WITHOUT REASON

A distinguished old one-legged colonel

Once started to edit a journal;

But soon, quite disgusted,

Gave up—he was busted—

And cried, "The expense is infernal."

A small boy when asked to spoil yacht

Most saucily said, "I will naught;"

So his teacher in wrath

Took a section of lath

And warmed him up well on the spath.

A merchant addressing a debtor

Remarked in the course of his lecture

That he chose what he suppose

A man know what he better;

And the sooner he pays it the better.

A young lady crossing the ocean

Grew ill from the ship's dizzy motion,

She called with a sigh

And a tear in her eye,

For the doctor to give her a poccan.

There was a young girl in the choir

Whose voice rose up high and hoar;

Till it reached such a height

It was cleared out of sight

And they found it next-day in the spair.

Said the dog: "When that trip to the cupboard

Was taken by Old Mother Hubbard,

Her search was a stall—

She had eaten it all

Herself—and I know, for I rub-board!"

And now our short story is through—

Though I will not assert that it's tough;

But it's chiefly designed

To bring to your mind

What wonders our spelling can do.

RETIRING RAILROAD

RECALLS PIONEER DAYS

The early days of railroading on the prairies, when agents walked thousands of miles over all kinds of country in all kinds of weather, buying right-of-way, were recalled recently with the retirement of R. O. Snider, formerly district right-of-way agent for the Canadian National Railways. Mr. Snider enjoyed many unusual experiences during his years as a buyer. He slept on the floor of an Indian cabin in southern Manitoba with nineteen Indians as his companions in slumber; he was arrested for trespassing in Alberta on a charge laid by a man who wanted an exorbitant price for his land; he walked eighteen hundred miles in one summer, carrying blankets and sleeping under the stars when the occasion demanded; he went hungry frequently and he remembers walking eleven miles for the sole purpose of getting something to eat. Mr. Snider started his career with the Canadian Northern Railway in 1901 and he bought the first 20 miles of every branch line built by that road in its pioneer days. He became district right-of-way agent at Winnipeg in 1920, following a career that had taken him into all districts of the Western Prairies.

EPIGRAMS FOR MOTORISTS

At fifty miles drove Albie Pidd;

He thought he wouldn't skid, but did;

At ninety miles drove Eddie Pepton;

The motor stopped, but Eddie kept on.

Here he sleeps, one Johnny Shaw;

He rounded a turn without a horn.

Down in the creek beds Jerry Baw;

The bridge was narrow, he tried to pass.

Here lies the body of William Jay,

Who died maintaining his right-of-way.

At the railroad crossing he did not tarry;

John William Jones lies under 'this thistle';

He didn't heed the engine's whistle.

1932 Chevrolet Shows Many Advancements

THE SPECIAL SEDAN

This 1932 Chevrolet special sedan, typical of the models just presented to the public, shows the new lines of beauty which are characteristic. The effect of streamlining is noticed, and also the new front end, with doors in hood, single-piece bumper, double tie-bar, dual horns.

In the lower picture is shown the instrument panel. Notice the free-wheeling control button. It is announced that the 1932 Chevrolet engine is 70 per cent greater in power and there are many other mechanical improvements, the chief of which is the combination of synchronous transmission with simplified free-wheeling for the first time in any car as standard equipment.

HUBBARD'S IDEA OF A BUYER

Elbert Hubbard, world's master mind of the journalistic field, who met a watery grave when the Louisiana went down, gave this very vivid description of a buyer, after encountering hundreds of business men: "The typical buyer is a man just past middle life, spare, wrinkled, intelligent, cold, passive, non-committal, with eyes like a cod-fish polite in contact, but at the same time unresponsive, cool, calm and damnably composed as a concrete post or a plaster-of-paris cat; a human petrification with a heart of feldspar and without charm or the friendly germ, minus bowels, passions or a sense of humor. Happily they never reproduce, and all of them finally go to hell."

Speaker, on a local platform (roaring): "Why don't you men give your wives more credit?"

Man in front row: "Because they want cash."

"Were you lucky at the races, Sandy?"

"I should think I was. I found a shilling after the last race, so I didn't have to walk home!"

Bookkeeper: "What is the boss's college son so swelled up about?"

Stenographer: "A life insurance doctor just examined him and found him O. K."

"What of that?"

"Well, you see, it's the only examination he ever passed."

Do you know I entered the man-eating tiger's cage when the circus was here?"

"No, really? You must be very brave."

"Well, I shouldn't go so far as to say that. You see, the tiger wasn't inside at the time."

For Blairmore Merchants Only

A chat with Blairmore business men in which they are told how they can increase their volume of sales.

There's no need for a fence around BLAIRMORE

You can't put a fence around Blairmore to keep Blairmore's people from shopping elsewhere. Neither can you prevent them from buying from mail order houses.

None the less, it isn't by any means the hardest task to get Blairmore folks to stop and buy in your store. It's a task, to be sure, but one in which your help will go a long way.

People buy where they are trained to buy. Educate them to buy in Blairmore and they'll always buy there. And educating education is very largely a matter of advertising.

Advertising! That's the solution! Your own advertising and that of the manufacturers, whose goods you strive to sell. Both, in your local, home newspaper, should prove effective in keeping Blairmore's business in Blairmore, . . . and Blairmore's dollars in Blairmore.

Where the manufacturer's advertising is concerned, your task is easy.

When their salesmen come to sell you goods, talk up Blairmore to them. Talk it up with enthusiasm. Make them realize how important Blairmore is to you in turn-over. . . . How important it is to them in order. . . . How important it is to their companies in more sales.

Talk up Blairmore so that these salesmen will pass the good word on to their sales managers who decide where advertising appropriations are to be spent.

With the advertising of more national manufacturers in your local newspaper, Blairmore and Blairmore district people will find it easier to shop in your store. You'll find it easier to keep them coming to your stores. And there won't be any need for a fence around Blairmore.

You need the advertising aid of the manufacturers whose goods you stock—urge their salesmen to recommend your local home newspaper.

CORBIN HAPPENINGS

On Thursday evening last, Mrs. Elliot very kindly loaned her home for a decidedly successful bridge drive, sponsored by the Rebekah lodge. With eight tables competing for the prizes, the contest was keen, and honors went to Mrs. W. Almond and George Podgornik, respectively. Consolation awards were given to Mrs. L. V. M. Peel and Mrs. F. Coates (who played as a gent). After cards, a dainty supper was served by the hostesses, Mrs. F. Reger, Miss S. G. Timeaus, Mrs. J. Taylor and Mrs. C. Joyce.

Mrs. and Mrs. H. Jorgenson entertained a number of invited guests at bridge on Friday night last. Honors went to Mr. and Mrs. W. Almond, and consolation awards to Mrs. D. Waddington and W. Porter.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Almond entertained a number of their friends at their home on Saturday night. Four tables of bridge were arranged for, with Mrs. R. Elliot winning ladies' first prize and Mr. J. Taylor the gent's award. Consolation prizes went to Mrs. H. Jorgenson and Mr. W. Porter.

The hotel staff held a very successful dance in the B. & B. hall on Saturday night, with Messrs. Waddington and Lyne supplying music.

L. J. Smith, Vancouver representative for McCannan, McFeely & Prior, Ltd., was in town on Wednesday of last week.

F. S. Ving, of Calgary, was a visitor here on Wednesday of last week.

Winter clutched Corbin in its icy fingers once again on Monday morning, and the thermometer was standing at 20 below at No. 6 camp, at 6 a.m. This sudden drop in temperature, after a touch of spring, is hard to bear by just mere humans.

$1000 FOR PUBLICITY

Twenty-three boards of trade of eastern British Columbia and southern Alberta are provisionally included in the scope of the Southern Scenic-Red Trail association, it was revealed at a meeting of the publicity committee of the Nelson board of trade Monday afternoon, when the committee expressed full approval of the action of the board's delegates at the recent Fernie conference, and asked the board to approve the scheme for co-operative advertising of this tourist route that was worked out.

The budget adopted by the Fernie conference calls for the expenditure of $1000 on designing and distributing of a new western road map that will feature the Red Trail on the prairie and the Southern Scenic Highway that is its continuation in this province, 20,000 copies of the map to be issued. It will have advertising matter also for the various centres in the organization.

If all the centres provisionally included come into the organization and contribute the amounts for which they are assessed, the fund would amount to $1425, but it is anticipated there will be some defections. If enough adhere to the scheme to provide the $1000 required for the map programme this season, the scheme will go ahead. Any excess over the $1000 will be available for other forms of advertising if considered desirable.

Assessments of the various centres have been fixed as follows: Trail, Nelson, Cranbrook, Lethbridge, $150 each; Fernie, $100; Vernon, Kelowna, Penticton, Grand Forks, Roseland, Creston, Michel, Coleman, Blaimore, Waterton, Cardston, $50 each; Summerland, Greenwood, Kaslo, Pincher Creek, Macleod, Taber, Coutts, $25 each.

Minutes of the Fernie conference of which Adolph Browne, of Nelson, was acting secretary, were sent out to 25 boards by secretary D. A. McFarland, of the Nelson board, and it is expected that most of the boards will signify their decisions within the next week or two.—EX.

FERNIE GIRL WINS CONTEST

Word was received in town on Tuesday by mail and by radio broadcast that Mrs. Cecil Anderson (formerly Miss Mable Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Mrs. Anderson was born, raised and educated in Fernie. After completing her high school here she entered normal school at Victoria, where she received her teacher's certificate. She taught school at Rossville for a number of years prior to teaching at Peace River for two years and where she later married. The Free Press extends congratulations.—Fernie Free Press.

HOPEFUL OVER ONTARIO MARKET

Howard Stutchbury, trade commissioner for Alberta, is optimistic over the prospects for the sale of Alberta coal in Ontario once a permanent freight rate is fixed. Application for a hearing with the board of railway commissioners has been made.

Coal operators are asking a permanent $5 rate on coal, convinced that a tremendous increase in mined tonnage will result, with extremely favorable reactions to the railway and mining industry in Canada.

"One of the largest coal dealers in Ontario told me that all he wanted was a definite assurance of a constant supply of Alberta coal for his customers." He said that this assurance was needed to secure a market in Ontario all the year around," Mr. Stutchbury said in Edmonton.

"We have never had a permanent rate for Alberta coal, to ensure this constant supply, and that is the reason for the proposed hearing before the railway board," he added.

Mr. Stutchbury said he found Premier Henry, of Ontario, very interested in Alberta coal, stating that Alberta had given Ontario coal when the anthracite supply was tied up and thereby had convulsed the eastern province that it could turn to cheaper fuel with satisfactory results.

Premier Henry told me that Alberta coal had saved the people of Ontario between $10,000,000 and $12,000,000 and had removed all fear of a fuel shortage," Mr. Stutchbury said.

At the request of Alberta coal producers who desired to invade the Ontario market, the railway board decided to make a test rate of $6.75 per ton. The original order came into effect in 1927 and was extended from time to time to July, 1931.

It was later extended to March 15, 1932, and now has been further extended to March 15, 1933, in order to allow the hearing of Alberta's case for a permanent rate.

At this time the actual costs involved in hauling coal to Ontario will be probed. At one time it was claimed that the actual cost was $8.25 per ton.

"More Alberta coal is being sold in Ontario than ever before. The S. exchange rate and the unemployment situation is helping, but one of the greatest difficulties we have had to contend with is the unusually mild weather enjoyed in Ontario for the past two years," Mr. Stutchbury stated.

Negotiations for renewal of contracts between unions of the U.M.W. of A. and operators in Alberta are proceeding, and it is felt there will be no necessity of even suggesting a day's lay-off.

Authority from the Department of Indian Affairs has been granted for the organization of a scout troop at the Sarcee Indian school in Alberta. The group committee includes Chief Jim Starlight and Chief Big Plume.

New Synthetic Dye Records Hitherto Invisible Objects

A new synthetic dye which photographs hitherto invisible objects was reported to the Optical Society of America by Dr. C. E. K. Mees, director of research of the Eastman Kodak Company.

This dye, xanocyanine, when used in emulsion on a photographic plate, records very short waves of heat radiation as it were visible light. These newly-photographed radiations are infra-red waves much longer than anything hitherto rendered visible.

The new dye "sees" these waves out beyond 11,000 angstrom units. An angstrom unit is about one-hundred-fifty-millionths of an inch.

So this latest step into the invisible picks up waves a little less than a twenty-thousandth of an inch long. Objects photographed with infra-red have the same appearance as those seen with visible light.

Experiment in Education

Opportunity School in Denver Is Filling a Real Need

A unique experiment in education, carried on for the last sixteen years by the city of Denver, is described in a recent report prepared for the Association for Adult Education by Professor Fletcher H. Swift, formerly of the University of Minnesota, and an associate. It is known as the "Opportunity School," and owes its existence to the intelligence and initiative of Miss Emily Griffith, a grade teacher who saw a pressing need and devised plans for meeting it.

A street laborer, too old to work, was taught the rudiments of book-keeping and a position found for him. Another old man was taught cobbling, and has since earned his living in his own home. A young boy was given money for a bath, bed and breakfast, with instructions to return the next day. A job was found for him, and he has held it ever since. An overgrown lout, who stuttered badly, produced a card signed by a grade teacher, "This boy is a moron." When asked, "Can you read?" He replied, "No, I can't read, but I could read what they are reading about!" He showed a real gift with a pencil, and was put in a shorthand class, where he made good. Dozens of similar stories are told to show the scope and variety of the work done by this school. Even training in etiquette and social usage has been included.—Minneapolis Journal.

Gardening Notes

A GOOD LAWN

The lawn is absolutely essential from the standpoint of beauty in connection with any garden, an even, velvety sward of rich, green grass setting off brilliant flowers and making an ideal spot for the children to play in. We can use grass for our paths between the beds, though if there is less traffic it may not stand up as well as more permanent material like brick, flagstones, gravel, concrete or cinders. Our lawn must be even, the grass should be a dark green, there must be no weeds and no bare spots. In planting a permanent affair of this kind most of the work must be done in advance. It is essential that the ground be thoroughly dug and leveled before the grass is sown. If at all possible, give your seed a chance to sprout and then cultivate to kill them before we seed down. Late frosts and heavy spring rains will settle the soil after which we should make level again. Grass like any other plant responds to fertilizer, and while well rotted manure is one of the best agencies in this connection, in the case of lawns it is not so advisable as commercial fertilizer on account of the danger of weeds. A good mixture high in Nitrogen, which element furnishes the green growth, is the best to use. A vital factor in this, as well as all other forms of gardening, is the seed. There are dozens of mixtures in the market and prices vary. But good grass costs money because seed giving a fine, velvety sward that will stand up year after year is expensive. Cheap mixtures will make a fine appearance the first year, but will not hold up with frost and are inclined to develop more and more into coarse, rank-growing grass as time goes on. Reputable seed houses who depend on trade year after year for their own protection only handle grass that will give the best results under Canadian conditions and their mixtures, tested and approved by Government officials, are safe. One pound of seed is required for every two hundred square feet and where the ground is shaded special seed should be used. Roll or pound the seeded ground thoroughly. This same practice is recommended for treating bare spots in lawns.

God seed is foundation. Because seed is so cheap and one of the least important factors in the cost of gardening, we are too apt to overlook its importance. Good seed is essential and we should purchase that especially suited to Canadian conditions. Certain varieties which may give wonderful results in England or the southern States are not likely to do well in our country, and on this account gardeners are strongly advised to obtain their supply of both seeds and plants from Canadian sources.

The letter "P" is like a selfish friend—the first in pity, the last in help.

JESUS COMFORTS HIS DISCIPLES

Golden Text: "Peace I leave unto you; my peace I give unto you; not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be fearful."—John 14:27.

Lesson: John 14 to 17.

Devotional Reading: Isaiah 40:1-8.

Explanations and Comments

Christ the Comforter, verse 1.—The disciples were perplexed and troubled; their hearts were failing them as they approached the last crisis in their Master's life. It was faith in the Father that kept Christ serene and peaceful so near His end, and faith in the Father and the Son would uphold the disciples in that "terrible hour."

"Let not your heart be troubled." He said to them in their last talk together, "believe in God, believe also in Me."

"Twas the Master Himself who said it. To the sorrowful little band, finding an hour of darkness. That they could not understand."

Here lies the secret of an untrodden heart in the midst of troubled circumstances: faith in a Living God and Saviour. Not a nominal faith in the existence of God, but an active, overmastering belief in His goodness and wisdom and in His overruling all things for good will keep the heart from despair in times of storm and stress.

Christ's Words About Heaven, verse 2, at the end of the chapter, but there would be a reunion. "In My Father's house are many mansions, if it were not so, I would have told you [that your home might not be in vain]; for I go to prepare a place for you. Our word 'mansion' meant originally a place of shelter, and the margin of the Revised Version has the translation 'abiding place.'"

He would have told them. It was His nature to tell them everything it was necessary for them to know. He would not allow His friends to go on holding delusions when a word from Him would set them free. These men had in them not an instinctive belief in the life to come. Like all normal and unpolished countrymen, they believed in the end. They looked forward to a life of larger scope and rapture than this present life.

Jesus allowed them to nourish their expectations. He saw the direction in which their souls were being led, and He did not tell them they were wrong by any illusion. He let them go on thinking of heaven, hoping for heaven, working for heaven, and now that the end of His earthly life had come, He told them more plainly of the nature of this vast world beyond the shadows."—Charles E. Jefferson.

"No force divine compels. For him who shares Christ's way, for him alone The Christ of Calvary a place prepares. Iscariot makes his own."—John Elliott Bowman.

Christ the Way, the Truth, and the Life, verse 6.—The disciples had at last grasped the fact that Jesus was to leave them, and their minds were filled with a sense of the magnitude of their knowledge. "I am the way," whither I go, ye know the way." Thomas characteristically required proof of his knowledge. "I am the way," we know not whither Thou goest, how know we the way?"

The words of Jesus are rich in affirmation. "I am the way," we have heard Him say, "I am the truth," "I am the light of the world," "I am the door," "I am the good shepherd," "I am the resurrection and the life," now we hear Him say, "I am the way, the truth, and the life." Moffatt's translation reads, "I am the real and living way." Jesus does not mean that He is first the way, then the truth, and then the life. The words "truth" and "life" explain to what sense He is the Way: He is the way to God because He is the Truth about God (the true Revealer of God) and the Source of the life that cannot die.

Jesus our Redeemer is still the Way. A thousand things have passed, but that remains. It is through His death, and His rising from the dead, and through our daily fellowship with Him, that we walk heavenward, and reach Heaven at last.

Without the Way there is no going; without the Truth there is no knowing; without the Life there is no living; "I am the Way which thou shouldst believe; the Truth which thou shouldst believe; the Life which thou shouldst hope for."—Thomas A. Kempis.

Refused To Regard Blindness a Handicap

Veteran Of South African War Was Successful Barrister

The mind is carried back a generation with the news from Ontario of the death of "Trooper" Mulloy, one of Canada's heroes of the South African War. Mulloy, or to give him his proper designation, Lieut.-Col. Lorne W. Mulloy, lost his sight from a wound in his leg in the first encounter between Briton and Boer that began in 1899 and continued for almost three years.

Mr. Mulloy, who was a practicing barrister when death took him suddenly, was a man of rare courage in peace as well as in war. He refused to regard his blindness as a serious handicap in life. "I am not blind; I will live the life of a man with eyes," he declared when the bandages were being removed in a London hospital, and he kept his promise. By lecturing, he earned enough to graduate at Queen's University. There followed a post-graduate course at Oxford and law courses at Osgoode Hall. In the last eight years he had practiced law at Toronto. During the Great War he was an earnest and successful speaker for recruits.

"It is not necessary the disabled soldier who is to be pitied," said Col. Mulloy, in addressing a company of returned soldiers during the Great War. "Not the man who has lost an arm or a leg, or perhaps his sight. It is rather the man who comes back in sound health and strength, and in full possession of all his faculties, who has a piece of shrapnel lodged in his moral backbone. It is the lad who has the grit and gumption to stick to it during the period of transition which makes good. Remember, the three important things are self-mastery, self-reliance and purposeful self-direction."

"Trooper" Mulloy, in other words, was an inspiration in more ways than one. It is a challenge to every man who has the least bit of manly courage to be a better man than he was.

Collapse Of Wheat Market Not Due To Wheat Surplus

There never has been a world surplus of wheat, according to Dr. W. Swanson, professor of economics at the University of Saskatchewan, in an interview at Regina, Sask. He expressed the opinion that the collapse of the international wheat market was from other factors, as the alleged surplus had never existed.

For this reason the economist expressed the view that those who waited that dollar wheat would never return here very not taking into consideration that the price of wheat had been linked with the prices of other commodities, some of which had dropped to a greater degree than wheat.

As a ray of hope to the grain growers and others involved, he expressed the opinion that wheat prices are due to make a steady recovery, from a standpoint of its strong statistical position.

Dr. Swanson qualified the statement when he said: "The course of these prices, however, will be determined by an infinitely complex combination of factors, not the least of which will be the purchasing power of the pound sterling, the outcome of which no one can definitely forecast."

MARGARET FIEDLER

Author of "The Splendid Folly," "The Hermit of Par Day," "Hedder & Stoughton, Ltd., London."

She felt that if only Judith could better comprehend Glyn's nature, she would not only be disposed to judge him less harshly, but to a certain extent, would find healing for her own bitterness of resentment and hurt pride.

Judith was an unhappy woman, embittered by one of those blows in life which a woman finds hardest to bear. And Jean hated people to be unhappy.

So that it was with considerable satisfaction that she set out across the park towards Willow Ferry, crossing the river by the footbridge which spanned it at a point about a quarter of a mile below the scene of her boating mishap.

Judith welcomed her with unaccustomed warmth, and after lunch completely won her heart by a candour seemingly akin to Jean's own.

"I've been quite hateful to you since you came to Staple," she said frankly. "Just because you were — you were — I suppose — turning her head a little aside — 'you've heard — you know that old story'."

Then, as Jean murmured an affirmative, she went on quickly: "Well, it was idiotic of me to feel unfriendly to you because you happened to be Glyn's daughter, and I'm honestly ashamed of myself. I should have loved you at once — you're rather a dear, you know — if you had been anyone else. So will you let me love you now, please — if it isn't too late!"

It was charmingly done, and Jean received the friendly overture with all the enthusiasm dictated by a generous and spontaneous nature.

"Why, of course," she agreed gladly. "Let's begin over again" — smiling. Judith smiled back.

"Yes, we'll make a fresh start!"

After that, things progressed swimmingly. The slight "gene" which had attended the earlier stages of the visit vanished, and very soon, prompted by Judith's eager, interested questions, Jean found herself chatting away quite naturally and happily about her life before she came to Staple and confessing how much she was enjoying her first experience of England.

"It's all so soft, and pretty, and old," she said. "I feel as if Staple must always have been here — just where it is, looking across to the Moor, and nodding sometimes, as much as to say, 'I've been here so long that I know some of your secrets'," she added dreamily. "Those great trees watch us all the time, just as they've watched for centuries. They remind me of the Egyptian Sphinx, they're so still, and silent, and — and eternal-looking."

"You've not been on to Dartmoor yet, have you?" asked Judith. "We

She collected her tools, and slipping her arm within Jean's led her in the direction of the house.

"We'll have tea at once," she said, "and then I'll walk back with you part way."

"You're bent on getting rid of me quickly, then?"

"Yes" — seriously. "He" — there was little need to specify to whom the pronoun referred — "will be back by the afternoon train, and for some reason or other he is very unfriendly towards you just now."

"What have I done to offend?" queried Jean lightly. Somehow, with Sir Adrian actually away, it didn't seem a matter of much importance whether he was offended or not. Even the house had a different "feel" about it as they entered it.

"It's not anything you've done; it's what you are. I think, sometimes, that when a man is full of evil and cruel thoughts and knows he has given himself up to wickedness, he simply hates to see anyone young and — and good, like you are, Jean, with all your life before you to make a splendid thing of."

"And what about you?" asked Jean, her eyes resting affectionately on the other's delicate, flower-like face with its pathetically curved lips and the look of trouble in the young blue eyes. "He sees you constantly."

"Oh, he's used to me. I'm only his wife, you see. Besides," — wearily — "he knows that he can effectively prevent me from making a splendid thing of my life."

The note of bitterness in her voice wrung Jean's heart. "I don't know how you bear it!" she exclaimed.

"One can bear anything — a day at a time," answered Claire with an attempt at brightness. "But I never look forward," she added in a lower tone.

The words seemed to Jean to contain an epitome of tragedy. Not yet twenty, and Claire's whole philosophy of life was embodied in those four desolate words: "I never look forward!"

The world seemed built up of sadness and cross-purposes. Claire and Nick, Judith, and Blaise Tormarin, all had their own particular burdens to carry, burdens which had in a measure spoiled the lives of each of them. It seemed as though no one was allowed to escape those "smuffers of Destiny," of which Blaise had spoken as he and Jean had climbed the mountain-side together. She felt a depressing conviction that her own turn would come and wondered whether it would be sooner or later.

A Very Nervous Child

Allen Lee Credits New Happy Girlhood To Benefits of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Noise No Longer Bothers Her.

"I am not quite 14 years old," writes Allen Lee, Douglas, Ont. "This summer I was this and nervous. I would rave at night, even get up and walk all through the house in my sleep. Mother sent me away for a long holiday, but when I came back my nerves were not bad. One day mother bought me three boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They worked like magic. I have gained 9 pounds since September, and it takes a lot of noise now to bother my nerves. And how the roses bloom in my cheeks again! It's a delight to tell other girls about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for me."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills effect such transformation as this because their remedial action is to enrich the blood, which restores the exhausted nerve forces and revitalizes the whole system. At your druggist's in the new glass container. 50c a package. 274

Like Continental Dish

People in New York Eat Millions Of Frog's Legs

The circumstance that more than 30,000,000 pairs of frog's legs are annually consumed within the confines of New York City may appeal to those with a penchant for combining statistics with gastronomy as of some culinary significance. Chicago also is a frog's-leg-conscious community with an annual consumption of 18,000,000 pairs of extremities, while San Francisco consumes third with the disposal of a creditable 8,000,000. But it is the New York figure which is of importance as indicating that frog's legs are no longer a delicacy which appeals to the trained Gault palate alone.

The French population of New York is only about 300,000, and, as it is hardly probable that every French man, woman and infant can account for a thousand pairs a year, it would seem that Americans, too, have cultivated a taste for a dish long held to be almost exclusively Continental.

Bridge in the Northland

Almost Every Person in Churchill Taking Part in Tournament

Canada's northland is in the throes of its first contract bridge tournament. Almost the entire population of this new seaport on the shore of Hudson's Bay is participating and the entries are so numerous it will be the end of the winter before the contest narrows down to the semi-finals. Elevator and dock watchmen, Hudson's Bay Company employees, fur traders, trappers and Eskimos are all eager to test the merits of their pet systems.

Meantime through the radio, only means of communication in the Arctic winter, news of the progress of this contest is being sent to all the stations scattered to the westward and northward to the shores of the Arctic Ocean.

Little Helps For This Week

"Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed."—2 Timothy II. 15.

One by one thy duties wait thee. Let thy whole heart go to each. Let no future dream elate thee. Learn thou first what these can teach.

—Adelaide Anne Procter.

The consciousness of duty performed gives us music at midnight.

—George Herbert.

Do thy duty, and be at peace with God and thine own conscience. There can be no true peace for thee apart from the honest and daily discharge of those obligations, great and small, which come into thy life from the Creator, and which, rightly viewed, are angels of divine discipline. Thou hast too much to say about thy rights, and thinkest too little about thy duties. Thou hast but one inalienable right; and that is the sublime one of doing thy duty at all times, under all circumstances, and in all places.—Frederic R. Maroin.

Drives Asthma Like Magic. The immediate help from Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy seems like magic. Nevertheless it is a natural remedy used in a natural way. The smoke or vapor, reaching the most remote passage of the affected tubes, brushes aside the trouble and opens a way for fresh air to enter. It is sold by dealers throughout the land.

CANADIAN WOMEN FIND DUSTING DISTASTEFUL

Dust cloths going into discard; Unpleasant to use; a bother to Wash

APPLEFORD WONDER PAPER HAS GREAT VOGUE

Of all household tasks, that of dusting is the least appealing to the majority of women.

However, this condition, like many another connected with housework, is undergoing radical change. In a great many Canadian homes the women are discarding dust cloths entirely, and are using Appleford Wonder Paper instead, because it actually dusters — it cleans — as it polishes, does a better and much quicker job than the old dust cloth ever did.

This new, and extremely modern Wonder Paper, is made from clean rags, and soft paper pulp, treated in a scientific way with a high-grade furniture polish; and absorbs dirt instead of spreading it.

Appleford Wonder Paper comes in handy-size packages, twenty-five large sheets for twenty-five cents. You crumple a sheet into a soft wad and go over the surfaces requiring attention. Then when one side is soiled or worn, turn the Wonder Paper inside out. After you have given a quick and lasting finish to furniture and woodwork, you can still use Wonder Paper on the floors, if you wish.

And when you are through, there's no old dust to shake out or wash. Throw the soiled Wonder Paper away and you've completed the most tiresome part of housework in half the time and with half the effort.

Wonder Paper is made by the makers of the famous PARASANI Heavy Waxed Paper in the Green Box.
